Sellwood Bridge meeting rescheduled for January 22

A meeting of the Community Task Force for the Sellwood Bridge Project has been rescheduled for Monday, January 22 from 5:30 pm to 8:30 pm at Sellwood Baptist Church, 1104 SE Spokane Street. A meeting scheduled for January 16 was postponed due to this week's snow storm.

The task force includes twenty citizens interested in the Sellwood Bridge Project. The planning project, which began last year, will select a preferred alternative to provide a long-term fix for the Sellwood Bridge, which is reaching the end of its service life.

At the meeting, the task force will complete a discussion about criteria and measures that will be used to evaluate and rank alternatives this year.

The task force is scheduled to recommend a preferred alternative in early 2008. A Policy Advisory Group made up of elected officials from jurisdictions impacted by the project considers recommendations of the Community Task Force.

Task force meetings are open to the public and include time for public comment.

Multnomah County maintains the Sellwood Bridge, five other Willamette River bridges, and more than 300 miles of roads.
